

UNFORTUNATELY, ORTHOPEDIC PAIN DOESN'T STOP IN A CRISIS.

With our new on-call only model, neither does the opportunity to receive care.

Balancing the need to be there for our patients with the health and safety of our staff and community, we're temporarily becoming an "on-call" practice – offering both in-person and telehealth visits – for those experiencing orthopedic pain.

If you think you have an orthopedic issue that can't wait, call Orlin & Cohen and a member of our team will work with you to assess whether you need immediate attention. It's a new, creative approach to our practice: Because in this crisis, protecting each other should be everyone's top priority.

In light of this broad accessibility to our services and for everyone's safety, we are suspending our Merrick after-hours and weekend walk-in clinic for the duration of the crisis.
